Although each member Junior League is a charitable organization incorporated in its state, province or country of domicile and with a board elected entirely by its own membership, in order to be admitted to the Association, an organization must fulfill certain requirements. These include adoption of the Junior League Mission, administrative independence from any other organization, and demonstration of a commitment to practice certain values and practices as called for in the Association's bylaws. Operational Policies adopted by the Junior Leagues and binding on the Association and all Junior Leagues further define minimum standards of charter, constitution, or bylaws, including but not limited to statements prescribing the form of the name to be adopted by the member League, commitment to nondiscrimination, how its books and records are to be kept and monitored, and immediate notification to the Association if the charitable status of the League changes. The Association's bylaws allow membership to be withdrawn if the Board of Directors deems this to be in the best interest of the Association, and a process for doing so is further outlined in the Operational Policies.
